LOCAL GOVERNMENT LOBBYING EXPENDITURES

Description of the Office of the State Auditor

The Office of the State Auditor (OSA) serves as a watchdog for Minnesota taxpayers by helping to ensure financial integrity, accountability, and cost-effectiveness in local governments throughout the state.

Through financial, compliance, and special audits, the OSA oversees and ensures that local government funds are used for the purposes intended by law and that local governments hold themselves to the highest standards of financial accountability.

The OSA performs approximately 250 financial and compliance audits per year and has oversight responsibilities for over 4,300 local units of government throughout the state. The office currently maintains five divisions:

Audit Practice - conducts financial and legal compliance audits for local governments;

Government Information - collects and analyzes financial information for cities, towns, counties, and special districts;

Legal/Special Investigations - provides legal analysis and counsel to the Office and responds to outside inquiries about Minnesota local government law; as well as investigates allegations of misfeasance, malfeasance, and nonfeasance in local government.

Pension Oversight - monitors investment, financial, and actuarial reporting for over 700 public pension funds;

Tax Increment Financing (TIF) - promotes compliance and accountability in local governments' use of TIF through financial and compliance audits;

The State Auditor serves on the State Executive Council, State Board of Investment, Land Exchange Board, Public Employee's Retirement Association Board, Minnesota Housing Finance Agency, and the Rural Finance Authority Board.

Scope and Methodology of Report

This report on the lobbying expenditures of Minnesota local governments and associations of local governments is prepared in accordance with Minnesota Statutes §6.76. The statute requires that:

"(a)On or before January 31 of each year, all counties, cities, school districts, metropolitan agencies, regional railroad authorities, and the metropolitan council shall report to the state auditor, on forms prescribed by the auditor, their estimated expenditures paid for the previous calendar year to a lobbyist as defined in section 10A.01, subdivision 21, except payments to associations of local governments that are reported under paragraph (b), and to any staff person not registered as a lobbyist, over 25 percent of whose time is spent during the legislative session on legislative matters.

(b) Associations of local governments subject to this section shall report annually, on or before January 31, to the state auditor and the association's members the proportionate amount of each member's dues spent for lobbying purposes."

The Office of the State Auditor (OSA) has collected and published this data for lobbying expenditures made by local governments since 1989. This is the fifth year that associations whose membership includes local governments were required to report their lobbying expenditures to the OSA. Because of the inclusion of local government associations, the data presented in this report are not comparable with reports prior to the 1997 report. This report summarizes local government lobbying expenditures during calendar year 2002 and is intended to inform Minnesota citizens and policy makers of the amount spent by their local governments to attempt to influence public policy in the state.

The reporting forms used to collect information on the expenditures by local governments and their associations for lobbyists and lobbying are presented as appendices in this report. The list of local government associations was developed by reviewing a list of all associations that were registered with the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board (formerly known as the Ethical Practices Board). While the OSA attempted to identify all associations of local governments and provide them forms to fulfill their reporting requirement, it is the associations' responsibility to comply with the reporting requirement. The lobbying expenditures are the amounts self-reported by local governments and local government associations.

Local Government Lobbying in 2002

Summary of 2002 Local Government Lobbying Expenditures

According to reports filed with the Office of the State Auditor (the OSA), local governments spent a total of $5,397,580 on lobbying activities in 2002. This represents a decrease of $359,471or 6.2 percent from the amount spent in 2001.

Local governments reported $5,397,580 on lobbying expenditures in 2002.

Fifty-three reporting local governments (10 fewer than in 2001) directly employed or hired contract lobbyists in 2002. These local governments spent a total of $2,999,540 on staff and contract lobbyists. This was $424,332 or 12.4 percent less than in 2001. Staff and contract lobbyists are paid to influence legislative, administrative, or official action of governmental units in Minnesota. These expenditures do not include dues and membership fees paid to local government organizations.

In addition to the $3.0 million paid directly to staff and contract lobbyists, local governments paid dues of $7,984,511 in 2002 to local government associations (hereinafter referred to as associations) that also represented their interests before the legislature. These dues represent an expenditure of taxpayer dollars.<sup>1</sup> These associations spent $2,398,040 on lobbyists and lobbying in 2002. Of the $2.4 million spent on lobbyists and lobbying, $1,915,258 was funded exclusively through dues. In 2001, local governments paid association dues of approximately $7.85 million, of which $1,840,174 was spent on lobbying activities.

Payments Made to Staff and Contract Lobbyists

Fifty-three of Minnesota's cities, counties, school districts, and metropolitan agencies directly employed staff and/or contracted with professional lobbyists to represent their interests before the legislature. Tables 1 through 3 detail these lobbying expenditures.

Of the 53 entities reporting to have had employed lobbying staff or hired contract lobbyists in 2002:

- Twenty-six cities and city component units reported a combined total of $1,122,175 in lobbying expenditures;
- Twelve counties reported a combined total of $850,388 in lobbying expenditures;
- Ten school districts reported a combined total of $405,619 in lobbying expenditures; and,
- Five metropolitan agencies reported a combined total of $621,359 in lobbying expenditures.

Local Governments Spending the Most on Staff and Contract Lobbyists

Ten of the 53 local governments that directly employed lobbying staff or hired contract lobbyists reported over $100,000 in lobbying expenditures, for a total of $1,650,199. These ten local governments accounted for 55.0 percent of the total amount paid to contract and staff lobbyists in 2002. The ten local governments are:

| Hennepin County                         | $274,135 | City of St. Paul                             | $130,435 |
|---|-----------|--|-----------|
| City of Minneapolis                     | $250,246 | Ramsey County                                | $121,660 |
| Metropolitan Council                    | $233,813 | Anoka County                                 | $111,748 |
| Metropolitan Airports Commission        | $174,535 | City of Rochester                            | $106,973 |
| Minneapolis Parks & RecreationBoard | $141,643 | Metropolitan SportsFacilities Commission | $105,011 |

Trends in Expenditures for Staff and Contract Lobbyists

After three successive years of increases, the amount spent on contract and staff lobbyists decreased by 12.4 percent in 2002. The decrease reflects a shorter session and fewer local governments utilizing staff and contract lobbyists. The number of entities that reported having lobbying staff and/or contract lobbyists went from 63 in 2001 to 53 in 2002.

Reliance on Contract Lobbyists

The use of contract lobbyists was more common than having employee lobbyists for those governments that utilized these types of lobbying services. Contract lobbyists accounted for $2,002,301 or 66.8 percent of the total amount spent by those governments using contract or staff lobbyists. Local governments spent an additional $997,239 on employee lobbyists to represent the local government's interests before the legislature and state administrative agencies.

During 2002:

- 4 local units of government relied entirely upon their employees to represent them at the legislature;
- 41 units of government relied entirely upon contract lobbyists to represent their interests; and,
- 8 local units of government hired contract lobbyists and used their own employees for lobbying the legislature.

Lobbying Expenditures by Associations of Local Governments

While 53 local governments opted to hire lobbyists or use employees to lobby on their behalf, most local governments relied on various local government organizations to represent their interests at the legislature.<sup>2</sup> These local government organizations receive the majority of their funding from membership dues and other public funds. Some associations representing local governments not only lobby on behalf of their members, but also act as service organizations. Groups such as the League of Minnesota Cities and the Association of Minnesota Counties provide a wide range of services to their members. For these associations, lobbying services account for a smaller share of their overall expenditures.

Other associations are formed for the explicit purpose of lobbying the legislature on a specific issue or range of issues for which the members share a common interest. Most of these associations hire a lobbyist or a lobbying firm to influence legislative, administrative, or other official actions at the state, regional or metropolitan level of government. The dues paid by members of these associations generally represent a percentage of the total amount paid to a contracted lobbyist. While it is expected that most member dues from these arrangements are used for lobbying, some associations reported that less than ten percent of dues were used for lobbying activities.

&lt;sup>2</sup> The local government organizations identified in this report do not include various professional organizations that lobby on behalf of specific professional occupations within local governments. For example, Education Minnesota is registered with the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board. However, because the organization does not directly represent school districts or school district management personnel, its lobbying expenditures are not included in this report.

Trends in Lobbying Expenditures by Associations of Local Governments

Twenty-eight associations representing local governments reported lobbying expenditures totaling $2,398,040 for 2002. Of the $2.4 million spent on lobbying, $1,915,258 or 80 percent was funded through the dues of the association members. Total expenditures for lobbying/lobbyists by associations increased $64,861 or 2.8 percent over 2001. Expenditures on lobbying/lobbyists by associations have risen 42 percent in five years.

Association Lobbying by Type of Entity

The associations reporting lobbying expenditures included:

- Nine organizations that represented the interests of cities;
- Four organizations that represented the interests of counties;
- Five organizations that represented the interests of school districts;

- One organization that represented the interests of townships<sup>3</sup>
- Two organizations that represented other local government interests; and
- Seven organizations that represented more than one type of local government.

Many Local Governments Belong to Multiple Associations

More than half of the local governments (56.4 percent) paid dues to more than one association. Eight percent or 115 local governments belonged to three or more associations. While there are no restrictions regarding the number of associations to which local governments may belong, good fiscal policy would dictate that local governments evaluate whether they are receiving overlapping services.

&lt;sup>3</sup> Under Minnesota Statute § 6.76, townships are excluded from the list of local government units reporting lobbyists costs to the Office of the State Auditor. The OSA did obtain the Association of Minnesota Townships' Annual Report of Lobbyist Principal filed with the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board which indicated that the association spent an amount rounded to $20,000. Lobbyist principals are required to report their lobbying expenditures rounded to the nearest $20,000.

Associations with the Highest Lobbying Expenditures

Among the 28 local government organizations that lobbied the legislature on behalf of their local government members, nine organizations reported expenditures on lobbying/lobbyists in excess of $100,000.

The organizations that reported total lobbying expenditures exceeding $100,000 in 2002 were:

| League of Minnesota Cities                    | $436,368 | Minnesota Association of SmallCities        | $128,860 |
|---|-----------|---|-----------|
| Minnesota School BoardsAssociation        | $318,317 | Association of MetropolitanSchool Districts | $123,051 |
| Coalition of Greater MN Cities                | $316,571 | North Metro Crossing Coalition                  | $108,012 |
| Association of MetropolitanMunicipalities | $136,028 | Association of MinnesotaCounties            | $106,887 |
| Metropolitan Inter-CountyAssociation      | $135,077 |   |           |

Lobbying Expenditures by Associations May Be Greatly Understated

While some of the reported expenditures on lobbyists and lobbying may already seem high, the State Auditor's Office believes that the actual amount spent on lobbying activities could be much higher than reported here. There appears to be a significant difference in the calculation of costs incurred depending upon how the definition of "lobbying" is interpreted when reporting costs to this office, and how a "lobbyist" is defined under Minnesota Statutes depending whether or not the lobbyists is an employee of a political subdivision. <sup>4</sup> The OSA believes that the standard for reporting lobbying costs should include all the expenses incurred for activities that support lobbying and lobbyists to better show the actual costs of the lobbying effort. The following examples highlight the OSA's concern.

• Definition of Lobbying and Lobbyist. For example, the Coalition of Greater Minnesota Cities (hereinafter "the Coalition") is an organization that represents 72 cities in Greater Minnesota. According to the Coalitions' website, "Effective lobbying and the participation of city officials give the CGMC a strong voice at the state Legislature." It appears, therefore, that the primary purpose of the association is lobbying.

&lt;sup>4</sup> A "lobbyist" as defined in Minn. Stat. § 10A.01, Subd. 21, is a person who is paid "for the purpose of attempting to influence legislative or administrative action, or the official action of a metropolitan governmental unit, by communicating or urging others to communicate with public or local officials." This definition is broadened if the person is an employee of a local government to also include, "time spent monitoring legislative or administrative action...and related research, analysis, compilation and dissemination of information relating to legislative or administrative policies in the state or the policies of metropolitan governmental units." "Lobbying" includes not only communication, but also "any activity that directly supports this communication." Minn. Rule 4511.0100, Subp. 3.

To assist in their mission, the Coalition hired the lobbying/law firm of Flaherty and Hood, PA to perform most of its lobbying activities. According to forms filed with the OSA, Flaherty and Hood billed the Coalition $913,830 in 2002, of which $316,573 was classified as lobbying. Thus, according to Flaherty and Hood, over 65 percent of the services provided to the Coalition were for "non-lobbying" activities. The firm indicated in a letter submitted with the lobbying form that they excluded any costs related to "legal services, policy or technical research not related to lobbying, communication, monitoring of legislation, recruitment activities, and membership activities such as meeting and conferences."<sup>5</sup>

The OSA believes that because taxpayer dollars are involved, the public has an inherent interest in knowing the amount spent by associations of local governments to influence public policies. If the primary purpose of an organization is to lobby, the OSA would argue that all of its spending furthers its lobbying effort.<sup>6</sup> Therefore, costs such as correspondence, e-mail, salaries and benefits, research, analysis, compilation and dissemination of information, legislation monitoring, web sites, membership activities, conferences, should all be counted as lobbying expenditures.

- Classification of Intergovernmental Relations Staff Time. An additional example of what may constitute an understatement of lobbying costs is in the area of intergovernmental relations staff/policy analyst salaries and benefits. Organizations such as the League of Minnesota Cities and Association of Minnesota Counties have full-time intergovernmental relations/policy analysts staff whose primary purpose is to find issues of member concern that will be addressed in current or future legislative sessions. The amount that is currently reported as lobbying expenditures to the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board and the OSA only reflects the actual time spent "attempting to influence" public policy. In actuality, the true cost to members and taxpayers is the full costs incurred to support lobbying efforts such as research, legislative monitoring, issue identification, conferences, meetings, administration and overhead including benefits paid to their salaried employees. These costs are not currently being reported to the Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board or the OSA. The OSA believes that a more full disclosure of the costs incurred in support of lobbying efforts would allow members and the taxpayers to know the full cost of lobbyists.
- Classification of Legal Staff Time. Another area where lobbying expenditures may be understated is the time legal staff allocates for reviewing or writing statutory language related to pending or proposed legislation. While attorneys may not be at the capitol lobbying, they provide important background material and analysis for the furtherance of the lobbying effort. Again, if the attorneys are not actually directly attempting to influence public policy, their time is not considered a lobbying expense.

&lt;sup>6</sup> Specific words and phrases are not required to classify material as a lobbying disbursement. Rather, the controlling factor is whether "the purpose of the material is tied to some action of the legislature," even if the association may view it as educational. See Campaign Finance and Disclosure Board, Advisory Opinion 347.

Compensation Paid to Firms or Employees for Lobbying Services

In 2002, Minnesota local governments or associations of local governments paid eight firms or employees $100,000 or more to lobby on their behalf. The 8 lobbyists receiving the largest payments from local governments or associations of local governments were:

| Flaherty & Hood, P.A.                                  | $514,369 | Rice, Michels & Johnson               | $131,643 |
|--|-----------|---------------------------------------|-----------|
| Government & EnterpriseServices                    | $193,500 | Kim Isenberg (employee)               | $113,752 |
| McGrann, Shea, Anderson,Carnival, Straughn, & Lamb | $186,011 | Ronald Soberg (employee) <sup>7</sup> | $105,506 |
| Messerli & Kramer                                      | $142,497 | Mary Ann Campo                        | $100,000 |

Compensation Paid to Firms for "Non-Lobbying" Activitites

As stated in the earlier example, several firms, in addition to lobbying services, billed their clients substantial additional amounts for "non-lobbying" services. For example, Flaherty and Hood billed local governments and their associations $514,369 in lobbying services and an additional $761,795 in "non-lobbying" services. Messerli and Kramer billed $142,497 in lobbying services and an additional $132,003 in "non-lobbying" services. Again, these payments paid to lobbying/law firms that are designated as "non-lobbying" expenditures may represent a possible understatement of lobbying/lobbyist expenditures.<sup>8</sup>

Both Flaherty & Hood and Messerli & Kramer sent the State Auditor's Office letters explaining what they considered lobbying expenditures and what they excluded. Copies of their letters are attached as Appendix 1. Table 6 of this report details payments made to employees and hired lobbyists.

&lt;sup>8</sup> Minnesota Statutes and Rules attempt to collect information that would reflect the actual cost of supporting lobbying services. Information to be reported as a lobbying expense includes the "actual costs of publication and distribution of each publication in lobbying; other printing; media, including the cost of production, postage; travel fees, including allowances, entertainments; telephone and telegraph; and other expenses," Minn. Stat. § 10A.04 Subd. 4; "all expenditures for advertising, mailing, research, analysis, compilation and dissemination of information, and public relations campaigns related to legislative actions, administrative action, or the official action of metropolitan governmental units in this state; and all salaries and administrative expenses attributable to activities of the principal relating to efforts to influence legislative action, administrative action, or the official action of metropolitan governmental units in the state." Min Stat. § 10A.04, Subd. 6. See also Minn. Rule 4511.0600, subp. 5 ( cost of production of materials that directly support lobbying, and general administrative and overhead are included as costs.)

Conclusion

In the role as watchdog for Minnesota taxpayer dollars, it is the State Auditors' responsibility to examine where the money goes. Many Minnesotans find it troubling that local governments spend taxpayer dollars in hopes of securing more taxpayer dollars. The lobbying activities of local governments and associations of local governments are an oversight concern because these entities are funded with taxpayer dollars. In its examination of local government lobbying, the OSA has identified some areas of concern.

The current structure and ambiguity of the lobbying/lobbyist reporting requirements for local governments and associations of local governments leads, we believe, to widespread understatement of the true cost of lobbying efforts. While the OSA believes that associations may be following the letter of the law in regards to their reporting of lobbying expenditures, the exclusion of activities that contribute to the furtherance of the lobbying effort masks the true cost of these lobbying efforts. The public should know the full costs of activities used to support lobbyists. In some cases, the way that lobbying costs are reported create the appearance of extremely high overhead and administrative costs on lobbyist contracts using taxpayer dollars.

Therefore, the State Auditor's Office recommends that lobbying expenditures for local governments and associations of local governments be more broadly defined by the legislature to include the following non-exclusive list of expenditures: all amounts paid to hired contract lobbyists, all expenditures for advertising, mailing, research, analysis, compilation and dissemination of information, public relations campaigns, all salaries and administrative expenses, web site operation costs, meetings, conferences, recruitment activities, monitoring of legislation, and media releases. Associations funded primarily by taxpayers via local government dues need to be held up to a higher level of accountability.

The Office of the State Auditor believes that local governments have a right to have their interests represented at the legislature and other bodies of government. However, in these times of fiscal difficulties, local governments may be well served to evaluate the amount they are spending on these activities. Local governments need to explore whether their level of expenditures on lobbying activities hinders their ability to fund other priorities. For example, local governments that have their own intergovernmental relations staff, and hire outside lobbyists, and belong to multiple associations, could eliminate some expenditures and still have their interests represented. Like all other local government services, lobbying activities must be evaluated against the other priorities of the local government.

Professional Association

March 21, 2003

David R. Kazeck Office of the State Auditor 525 Park Street Suite 400 St. Paul, MN 55103-2139

Dear Mr. Kazeck:

I am in receipt of your letter dated March 7, 2003 regarding the Office of the State Auditor's Supplemental Lobbying Cost Information Request [hereinafter "Supplemental Request"]. I am a legal representative and lobbyist for the following organizations: The Coalition of Greater Minnesota Cities, the Coalition of Utility Cities, the Minnesota Environmental Science & Economic Review Board and the Highway 14 Partnership [hereinafter "the associations"]. This correspondence serves as a response by each of the associations to the State Auditor's Supplemental Request<sup>1</sup>.

The associations have completed the Supplemental Request regarding the amount paid for lobbying services in 2002 as it applies to the entity they retain, Flaherty & Hood, P.A<sup>2</sup>. I understand that Kari Thurlow of Flaherty & Hood, P.A. and John Jernberg of the Office of the State Auditor spoke via telephone on March 17, 2003 regarding the Auditor's definition of "lobbying services." Pursuant to that conversation, we understand that the State Auditor has defined "lobbying services" in the Supplemental Request using the instructions found on the form for the Annual Report of Lobbyist Principal, filed with the Minnesota Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board. The instructions read in relevant part:

You must report the total amount spent by the principal during calendar year 2002 on lobbying efforts to influence legislative action, administrative action or official action of metropolitan governmental units in Minnesota. Include direct payments to lobbyists and all expenditures for: advertising, mailing, research, analysis, compilation and dissemination of information, public relations campaigns, and all salaries and administrative expenses.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Although the associations have complied with this Supplemental Request, they object to the Request on the basis that it is unduly burdensome and fails to clearly define the information requested and the justification for the request. Nothing in the remainder of this response shall be interpreted as a waiver of these objections.

Jeanne Olson, executive director of the Minnesota Campaign Finance and Public Disclosure Board, clarified that expenditures by a lobbyist principal that are not related to lobbying efforts are not reportable in a telephone conference with Kari Thurlow on March 17, 2003. Lobbying efforts are attempts to influence legislative, administrative official actions by municipal governments by directly communicating with, or urging others to communicate with public officials or local officials in those governmental units. Minn. Stat. §10A.01, subd. 21.

We have reported all expenditures related to lobbying services pursuant to this understanding of what is included in lobbying services. We have not included many of the services Flaherty & Hood, P.A. provides the associations that do not fall within the definition of "lobbying services.<sup>3</sup>" By way of example, the following is a non-exclusive list of non-lobbying services:

- legal services, including legal advice, preparation of legal documents and appearances in a court of law or during proceedings related to an administrative contested case hearing;
- policy or technical research and analysis that is not used in lobbying efforts;
- general communications to the membership;
- monitoring of legislation to the membership regarding legislative activities where the membership is not urged to communicate or influence legislative activities
- recruitment activities; and
- membership activities, including membership meetings and conferences.

Flaherty & Hood, P.A. will continue to handle any requests by the State Auditor regarding lobbying expenditures by the associations. Please direct any questions regarding lobbying expenditures and reporting to the attorneys at Flaherty & Hood, P.A. Please contact Kari Thurlow at 651.225.8840 with any questions you may have.

Very Truly Yours,

P. Flater Timothy P. Flaherty
