OF MINNESOTA TOWNS

DECEMBER 31, 2000

The Office of the State Auditor is an office created by the state constitution. It serves as a watchdog for Minnesota taxpayers by helping to ensure financial integrity, accountability, and cost-effectiveness in local governments throughout the state.

Through financial, compliance, and special audits, the Office of the State Auditor oversees and ensures that local government funds are used for the purposes intended by law and that local governments hold themselves to the highest standards of financial accountability.

The Office performs approximately 250 financial and compliance audits per year. The State Auditor has oversight responsibilities for over 4,300 local units of government throughout the state. The office maintains seven divisions:

- ! Audit Practice - conducts financial and legal compliance audits for local governments;
- ! Pension Oversight - monitors investment, financial, and actuarial reporting for over 700 public pension funds;
- ! Special Investigations - investigates allegations of misfeasance, malfeasance, and nonfeasance in local government;
- ! Tax Increment Financing (TIF) - promotes compliance and accountability in local governments' use of TIF through financial and compliance audits;
- ! Government Information - collects and analyzes financial information for cities, towns, counties, and special districts;
- ! Legal - provides legal analysis and counsel to the Office and responds to outside inquiries about Minnesota local government law; and
- ! Constitutional - provides senior management for the Office and supports the State Auditor's administrative and official operations.

The State Auditor serves on the State Executive Council, State Board of Investment, Land Exchange Board, Public Employee's Retirement Association Board, Minnesota Housing Finance Agency, Board of Government Innovation and Cooperation, and Rural Finance Administration Board.

Scope of Report

This report covers the financial operations of the 1,790 towns in Minnesota for the calendar year ended December 31, 2000.¹ The sources of the data used in preparing this report include the annual township financial reporting form, audits by public accountants, financial statements prepared by the town clerk or clerk-treasurer, county auditors' reports of indebtedness, and Minnesota Department of Revenue records. Data received from the Department of Revenue includes state shared tax distributions, grants, aids, taxable valuations, and tax levies.

The data presented in this report reflects the activities of both governmental funds and proprietary funds. The governmental funds consist of the General, Special Revenue, Capital Projects, and Debt Service Funds. The proprietary funds are those that report the financial operations of municipal public service enterprises such as water or electric utilities owned by the town. Tables 1 and 2 summarize the financial condition of all Minnesota towns. Tables 3 and 4 present this data by individual town. Appendix A discusses factors that affect the revenues and expenditures of towns.

Table 5 lists by individual town the bonded and other long-term debt outstanding as of December 31, 2000. Other long-term debt refers to liabilities such as long-term lease agreements, installment purchase contracts, and notes.

An analysis of unreserved fund balances is not presented in this report. The majority of towns use a cash basis of accounting. The others use a modified accrual basis of accounting. Those towns using a cash basis of accounting report a single cash balance for all governmental funds at the end of the fiscal year. Towns using a modified accrual basis of accounting report separate fund balances for all of their governmental funds and denote the amounts that are reserved and unreserved. Because of the accounting differences among towns, a comparative analysis of unreserved fund balances is not appropriate.

In addition to this publication, the Office of the State Auditor maintains an interactive database containing several years of data that can be accessed through the OSA web site. The database allows users to customize the presentation of data to their individual needs. For example, a user can select local governments to compare, the criteria on which to compare them, and the time frame in which to compare them. The query can then be viewed on screen or saved to a file for downloading. The OSA web site address is www.osa.state.mn.us.

¹ The number of Minnesota towns declined by two between 1999 and 2000. The town of Forest Lake was annexed by the city of Forest Lake and the town of St. Augusta incorporated as the city of Ventura. Ventura later changed its name to the city of St. Augusta during 2000.

Overview

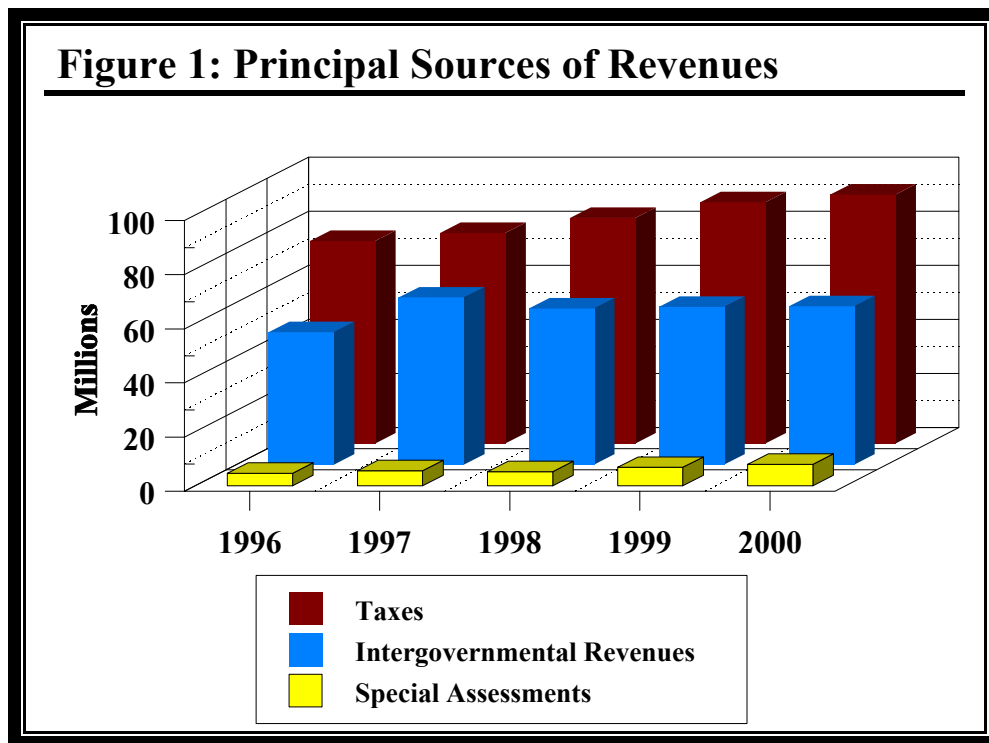

2000 Finances of Towns

In 2000, Minnesota's towns collected total revenues of $180.8 million. This represented an increase of 3.1 percent over the total revenues collected in 1999.² Minnesota towns spent $186.2 million to provide public services. This represented an increase of 4.2 percent over the amount spent in 1999. In 2000, the town of Forest Lake was annexed by the city of Forest Lake. The town of Forest Lake accounted for approximately 2.0 percent of the statewide total revenues and expenditures for 1999.

Total Revenues

Towns raised $180.8 million to finance public services in 2000. The principal sources of revenues for towns were: taxes, intergovernmental revenues, and special assessments. These three sources of revenues accounted for almost eighty-eight percent of town revenues in 2000. The shares of total governmental revenues generally vary only slightly from year to year. However; starting in 1999 and continuing in 2000, special assessments overtook charges for services as the third largest source of revenue. The annexation of the town of Forest Lake contributed to this shift but was not the sole factor. The category of special assessments grew faster than any other category of revenue between 1996 and 2000.

² There are 1,790 towns in Minnesota. Ninety-four towns failed to submit a financial reporting form. Total revenues exclude borrowing and transfers from other funds.

Figure 2 provides a comparison of taxes, intergovernmental revenues, and special assessments as a percent of total revenues for the years 1996 through 2000.

Total Expenditures

Minnesota towns spent a total of $186.2 million in 2000. This was an increase of 4.2 percent over the amount spent in 1999. Of the $186.2 million spent, $127.6 million represented current expenditures; $42.1 million represented capital outlays; and $16.4 million represented debt service payments.

Current Expenditures

Minnesota towns had current expenditures of $127.6 million in 2000. This represented an increase of 4.5 percent over 1999. Current expenditures exclude capital outlays, debt service, and transfers to other funds. Road and bridge activities represent the largest current expenditure for towns. The amount spent on road and bridge activities is double that of any other current expenditure.

Figure 4 provides a comparison of general government, fire, and road and bridge current expenditures for the years 1996 through 2000. The large increase in road and bridge expenditures in 1997 reflects the impact of a severe winter on the snow removal and street maintenance budgets of towns. The underlying data for this chart is presented in Table 2.

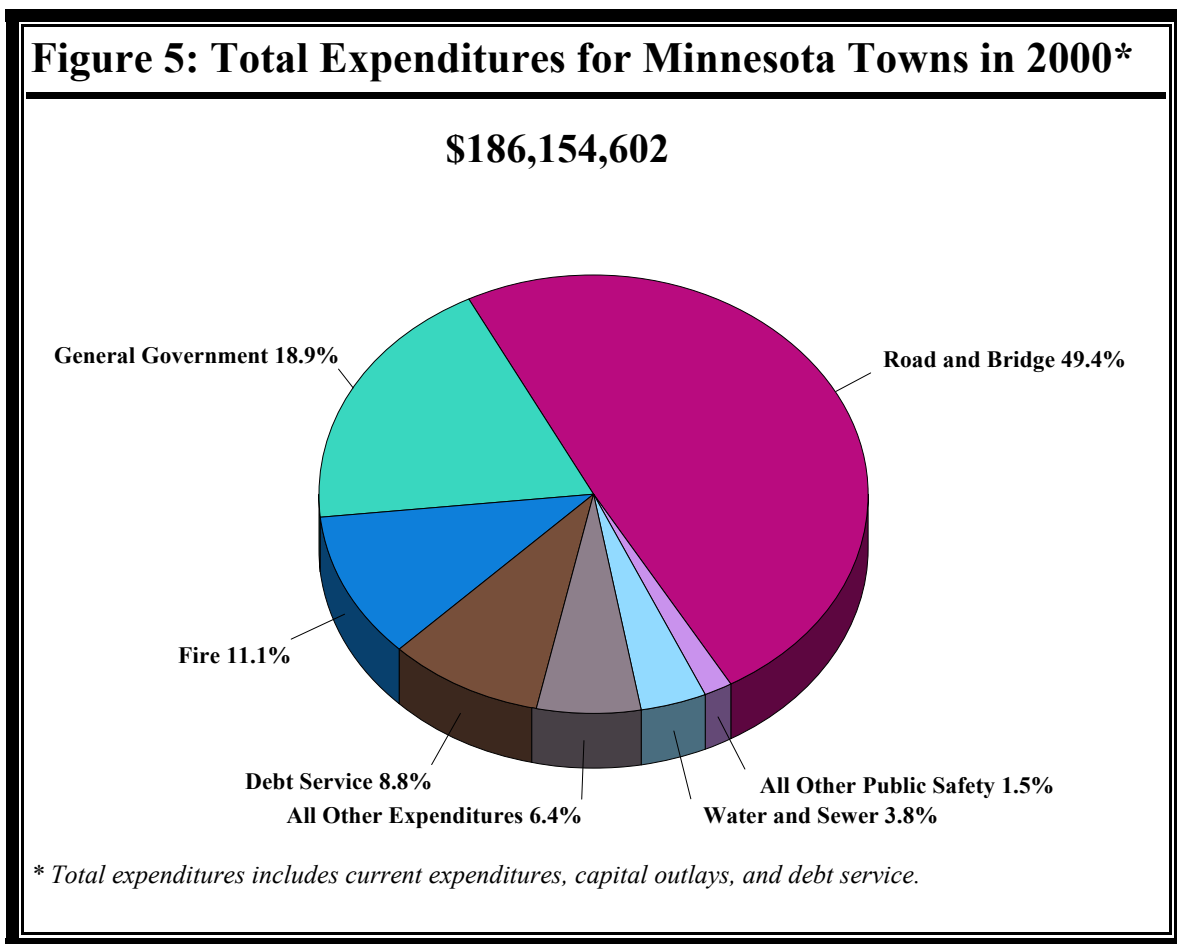

Capital Outlay and Debt Service

Capital spending totaled $42.1 million in 2000. This represents a 4.1 percent decrease from 1999. Capital spending relates to the acquisition or construction of major capital assets such as buildings and roads. Capital assets have initial lives extending beyond a single reporting period.

Towns had debt service expenditures of $16.4 million. This represents an increase of 30.4 percent over 1999. Debt service expenditures include the principal and interest payments on outstanding indebtedness. Expenditures in this category can vary widely. Such variations are caused either by the refinancing of existing debt or the issuance of new debt.

Indebtedness

Towns incur long-term debt through the issuance of bonds and notes, certificates of indebtedness, and tax anticipation certificates. Long-term lease agreements are also classified as long-term debt. Towns may only borrow to finance capital projects and purchases. They are restricted by law from borrowing for current expenses. The amount of outstanding debt affects a towns' current expenditures because towns must have sufficient funds available to make principal and interest payments to service the debt.

During the year, bonds totaling $4.6 million were issued and $10.3 million were retired, leaving $40.5 million outstanding at the end of 2000. Other long-term indebtedness outstanding at the end of 2000 totaled $20.1 million. Towns reported $224,884 in short-term indebtedness. Some of the decrease in outstanding indebtedness is due to the annexation of the town of Forest Lake. In 1999, the town of Forest Lake had $2.5 million in outstanding bonded indebtedness and $1.7 million in outstanding other long-term indebtedness.

Figure 6 provides a summary of bonds outstanding classified by type of bond for the years 1996 through 2000.

FACTORS INFLUENCING TOWN FINANCES

Factors Influencing Local Government Finances

The finances of local governments are affected by many different factors. Some of the variation results from decisions made by town officials. Some is due to factors outside the control of the elected officials, such as a local government's size, the economic status of its residents, or the proximity of similar services provided elsewhere. The amount of revenue available may be influenced by rising or falling property values, the use of fee-based services, intergovernmental grants for projects, access to taconite aid, and many other factors. Expenditures may be affected by the demographic, geographic, historical or political landscape of the local government. Large swings in expenditures may reflect demands caused by extraordinary weather events such as floods and tornados, high levels of snowfall, public safety events such as forest or brush fires, or large-scale investigations of high-profile crimes. Some factors have an on-going effect on local government finances, while others might be one-time events.

A. Demographics

Age of Housing In the metropolitan area, the average age of housing in a local government reflects not only the probable condition of the town's infrastructure, but several other conditions as well. The League of Minnesota Cities (LMC) found the average age of housing to be indicative of a variety of characteristics, including a higher relative rate of poverty, more tax exempt property, more subsidized housing, and a declining population base. Each of these factors tends to contribute to a demand for public services.

Population Local governments with larger populations face certain challenges not encountered by smaller local governments. Simply dealing with large amounts of traffic is one challenge that can become very costly, depending upon the burden carried by an area's streets and highways. Large populations may also indicate high population densities that in turn are associated with higher poverty and crime rates.

Population Decline A large loss of population can have a very significant effect upon a local government's spending. The costs of a local government's infrastructure and many of its services do not go down immediately when a number of its residents move away. The local government must then make decisions to do without certain services or to raise the property taxes on the remaining citizens to pay for the services.

Income Income is indirectly related to a local government's ability to raise revenues. Where incomes are lower, property values may also be depressed, reducing a local government's tax capacity. Poverty rates, in turn, will be higher, creating greater demand for public services.

Crime Rate Higher crime rates require a correspondingly high level of public safety services. Local governments that host sporting and other entertainment events can draw large crowds of nonresidents and create unusual public safety service demands. In addition, higher levels of poverty are also associated with the crime rate of a municipality and contribute to an overall greater demand for police protection. In addition to these demands, expenditures can be affected by a number of different factors including: the number, type and use of personnel; the scope of services; and amount of shared services. In addition, the demographics and mix of facilities within the town may affect expenditures for public safety.

B. Geographic Location

Different areas of the state often operate within quite different economic environments. Just the presence of one large business or industry can impact an entire region. Declines in industries or companies that dominate local economies may result in a higher demand for public assistance, and at the same time reduce the tax capacity of the area. Trends in agriculture may result in lower property values and a decline in revenues for local governments in regions whose economies are primarily based on agriculture. Local governments located in these areas may experience difficulty raising revenues at the same time that they face higher demands for public services.

C. Revenue Sources

Tax Capacity The amount of money any individual or entity spends is directly related to the amount that is available to spend. Likewise, the costs of doing business are directly related to the amounts of revenue that can be generated to meet the costs. The greater the amount and types of revenue available to a town, the more it will spend.

Enterprise Funds Services provided through enterprise funds allow local governments to pass the costs of services directly onto the users of the services. By using this type of accounting mechanism, local governments may be able to keep down the level of general property taxes needed to provide services.

D. Shared Services, Joint Powers Agreements

A significant practice among local governments is the sharing of services and the use of joint powers agreements to provide necessary services. "Joint exercise of powers" is defined in Minnesota Statutes § 471.59 (1999). Such arrangements allow local governments to provide services jointly with other local governments and thus pool their resources.

Shared service arrangements are not necessarily formal; some local governments provide services to other jurisdictions on an informal basis. By sharing the costs of services, local governments can achieve greater economies of scale and avoid duplicating services and capital investments. Local governments that provide a service to a number of entities may show higher expenditures for that service, but will have these costs defrayed by revenues provided by the other participating entities.

E. Proximity to County, Regional, or State-Run Programs/Facilities

Local governments that are located near county, regional or state-run facilities may decide to have their citizens take advantage of those facilities and services rather than provide them on their own. For example, local governments located close to a regional or state park may opt not to develop or expand their own park program. Smaller municipalities located near larger cities or other local governments may do the same.

The degree of isolation experienced by a community, whether geographic or technological (e.g., lack of advanced telecommunications capability), can also affect service demands and costs. Local governments that are remote from other communities may not have the opportunity to participate in joint powers arrangements or have access to urban amenities, and thus may need to provide a wider range of services out of their own budgets.

F. Types of Industry Present and Service Demands

One factor that can have a significant effect on an individual town's situation is the type of industry present in the town. For example, industries such as paper mills may place particularly heavy burdens on the municipalities water supply, sewers, fire department, or streets. At the same time, the presence of these industries contributes to the property tax base of the local government. Expenditures for these services may be higher than for other municipalities, but the cost is not necessarily borne by the residents of the local government.

G. Source of Labor

Numerous factors can impact local governments' levels of expenditures for labor. Use of part-time employees, reliance on volunteers, unionization of workers, retention of workers, and use of independent contractors for specific projects or general services can all effect the salary and fringe benefit costs paid by local governments.

H. Other Factors

The effects of weather and natural disasters can significantly affect the expenditures for certain services over a period of time. Local governments affected by floods and tornadoes may have higher public safety, streets and highways, and other infrastructure costs. During winters in which there is an unusually high snow fall, local governments may have increased expenditures for snow removal. There are many other incidental factors not included in this list. Explanations of differences in municipal expenditures should be pursued with local government officials.
